Looking to support and retain your young talent?

A Generation Next membership could be the solution.

Generation Next is a network that's passionate about giving young professionals aged between 18 and 35 the tools to succeed, grow and develop.

As an employer in the East Midlands, Generation Next can benefit your business by supporting your staff members with building confidence and introducing them to new environments.

We are proud of the East Midlands, believing it to be a great place to live, work and grow, and by partnering with Generation Next, you'll be supporting the next leaders in our region.

Generation Next is part of East Midlands Chamber, UK Chamber of the Year 2022

Why Generation Next is great for business

Build confidence & connections

Emerging professionals will be able to build confidence and cultivate connections in a safe environment, leading to valuable business contacts and new business opportunities.

Give a voice

Our membership can support your employees to be a voice for the next generation of leaders in the East Midlands, with them able to shape policy and contribute to our communities.

Entry into the awards programme

Young talent can be rewarded and recognised with free entry into the annual Generation Next Awards programme, which celebrates young talent from across the East Midlands business community.

Cost-effective training & development

Our network provides a cost-effective staff training and development tool at your disposal. Helping young professionals to learn and grow, they will receive insights from business leaders and the opportunity to link with mentors.

Retain your talent

For your business, it's an excellent tool to support and retain young professionals while differentiating yourself as a supportive and forward-thinking employer.
